HIGH-DEFINITION CONTENT FOR AZUREUS'
VIDEO AGGREGATION AND DISTRIBUTION PLATFORM,
CURRENTLY CODE NAMED ZUDEO

The Extremists and Bikini Destinations* Among Popular
Bennett Original Productions Set For P2P Destination

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

LOS ANGELES, CA (Jan. 16, 2007) – Bennett Media Worldwide, the distribution division of The Bennett Group, has joined with Azureus, the company behind the most popular peer-to-peer (P2P) application for the distribution of large files, to launch the more than 140 half-hours of Bennett's popular original High-Definition (HD) programming on the video aggregation and distribution platform, code named Zudeo (www.zudeo.com).

Among the Bennett Media original productions to be featured in HD on Zudeo include Bikini Destinations, The Wild Side, The Extremists, XoticXtreme and Snowology. Bennett Media content will be available on Azureus later this year.

“Azureus has rapidly gained industry-wide recognition as a broadband innovator and we are pleased to be able to take advantage of its ability to deliver high resolution content to a global audience,” said Casey Bennett, President of The Bennett Group.

“Bennett Media Worldwide ranks among the top distributors of HD quality original extreme sports, music and exotic programming,” said Gilles BianRosa, CEO, Azureus. “Our platform provides us with the opportunity to make quality HD programming over the Internet a reality. We are confident that the Bennett content portfolio will hold tremendous appeal to our audiences and we plan to announce additional HD partnerships soon.”

Recently launched in December, Azureus' new platform currently operating under the code name Zudeo, enables content providers to easily publish, showcase, and distribute high resolution, long form content, including video and games in High-Definition or DVD quality over the Internet, at no cost. Innovative service features include content discovery through search, browsing, channels and tagging, as well as easier integration with firewalls, and a completely revamped, easy-to-use interface. Enhanced features including P2P streaming will be released in the near future.

About Azureus Inc.

Azureus Inc. is the provider of the most popular P2P application for the transfer of large files. With more than three years of technology innovation, proven robustness, and more than 130 million downloads of its application, Azureus users connect with one another from more than 100 countries and 40 languages. In addition, leading companies including Sun Microsystems, employ Azureus servers to distribute applications or other content to their customers. The Azureus client is also included in Red Hat's Fedora Linux Operating System.

Today with Zudeo, Azureus operates a leading global video aggregation and distribution platform driven by the exchange of long-form, High Definition or DVD quality videos and other digital media content. The new commercial-grade platform is supported by powerful peer-sharing technology, enabling its vast global community the ability to browse, share, search and discover unique multimedia entertainment in a high-resolution format.
